

Outline

Handling crisis is an important topic in youth work as inappropriate handling may result in pain, suffering, fear and sometimes loss of life amongst our clients. For example in school settings, school teachers in Hong Kong are faced with a seemingly unending escalation of workload. More effort should be spent on assisting professional working with youth to handle crisis in their work.

In these 2 case conferences, emphasis is put on concepts of crisis and intervention. Participants are requested to bring along case example for discussion and practical applications.

Speakers / moderators:

Mrs. LU CHAN Ching-chuen is currently the Senior Clinical Psychologist of Correctional Services Department responsible for the administration and overall development of the psychological services. As an experienced practitioner in the field of forensic psychology, she is active in contributing her expertise in forensic psychology to the community and has served on advisory committees in various organizations related to drug and crime prevention and youth work. With crisis intervention and suicide prevention being an integral part of her work, Mrs. Lu will be able to share with the participants her experiences in the field.
